Ellen Thompson Named to 50 Best Women in Business List

Narberth, Pa --4 Walls LLC (4Walls.net) is pleased to announce that Governor Edward G. Rendell has named Ellen Thompson, Founder and CEO of 4Walls, a winner in the 12th Annual Pennsylvania's Best 50 Women in Business awards.

"This year's honorees are leaders who are dedicated to creating a better Pennsylvania," said Governor Rendell. "From large to small businesses—covering a wide array of industries—these women, and countless others across the commonwealth, are making valuable contributions to the state's future. Their substantive efforts are creating new opportunities for our residents, growing the state's economy, and improving the quality of life in our communities."

An independent panel of judges selected the top 50 candidates based on dedication to business growth, professional and personal accomplishments, community involvement, and advocacy for women in business.

"It is a real honor to be named one of Pennsylvania's Best 50 Women in Business. I couldn't be more pleased," said Thompson. "And I am especially proud to be in the company of other extraordinary business women."

The Central Penn Business Journal, along with the Pennsylvania Department of Community and Economic Development and four other business journals, honored these fifty women business leaders from across Pennsylvania during the Pennsylvania's Best 50 Women In Business awards reception at Hilton Harrisburg and Whitaker Center for Science & the Arts, on Monday, May 21, 2007.
